Voices of Resilience- An Exhibition of Specially Abled Artists

It gives me immense pleasure and pride to present “Voices of Resilience,” a special exhibition curated to celebrate the artistic brilliance and indomitable spirit of specially abled artists from the Tricity. This exhibition is not merely a display of artworks, but a powerful expression of courage, creativity, and determination.

Each artwork showcased here reflects the unique vision, strength, and emotional depth of the participating artists. Their creations beautifully transcend physical limitations and communicate inspiring stories of perseverance and passion. The Chandigarh Lalit Kala Akademi is deeply committed to providing an inclusive platform where every artist gets an opportunity to express, evolve, and receive due recognition.

All the artworks of Tricity artists have been thoughtfully and aesthetically displayed, ensuring that each creation receives the appreciation it truly deserves. The Akademi firmly believes that art has the power to empower, and this exhibition is a sincere effort to encourage and uplift specially abled artists. We hope that this initiative strengthens their confidence, energises their artistic journey, and inspires society to celebrate diversity and talent in its purest form.

I express my heartfelt gratitude to the parents and guardians of these specially abled artists for their constant encouragement, patience, and unwavering support, which plays a vital role in nurturing their creativity and confidence. I also extend sincere thanks to everyone who has come forward and contributed to making this exhibition meaningful and successful.

On behalf of the Akademi I express my sincere thanks to His Excellency Shri Gulab Chand Kataria Ji, Governor of Punjab and Administrator UT, Chandigarh, Sh. H Rajesh Prasad, IAS, Chief Secretary, UT Chandigarh, Sh. Mandip Singh Brar, IAS, Home Secretary cum Secretary Culture UT, Chandigarh and Sh. Sorabh Kumar Arora, PCS, Director Cultural Affairs, UT, Chandigarh for providing their overall support and encouragement to the Akademi and love for Art and Artists.

We also take this opportunity to thank everyone who is associated with the creative efforts of the Akademi, especially our encouraging and supporting audiences, who have been an integral part of our on-going journey to make Chandigarh the creative capital of the country. The Akademi remains dedicated to supporting such initiatives that promote artistic excellence and inclusivity.

An Ode to the Spirited Creative Urges

I heartily appreciate Leonardo da Vinci for his words: “Where the spirit does not work with the hand, there is no art.” This exhibition of specially abled artists is truly an expression of that spirit. Their urge to explore the possibilities of intuitive delight is empowered by their passion to rise above the challenges of the physical world.

It is well said that the creation and appreciation of art together form a bridge, carrying both the viewer and the creator from the tangible world of form and color into a metaphysical realm of meaning, emotion, and spiritual consciousness.

Organizing this exhibition of artists with special abilities is a sincere effort by CLKA to highlight the truth that art is an ultimate source of empowerment for the human spirit.

These artists have found a way to express their true selves through their art. Their creations embody the essence of their confident and dynamic creative urges. The Akademi firmly believes that such exhibitions are the need of the hour, providing platforms where specially abled artists can demonstrate to the world the extraordinary power of their indomitable spirit.

“When inspiration does not come to me, I go halfway to meet it.”

The Akademi deeply appreciates this thought of Freud and believes in the ability of these artists to serve as a true inspiration—proving that an evolved creative urge holds immense transformative power.

The Akademi extends its heartiest best wishes to the participating artists of this exhibition, which radiates the light and warmth of their intuitive blossoming.
